Skills Summary

Having worked as a freelance photographer since 2015, and more recently a filmmaker since 2017, I have acquired the necessary creative skills and technical knowledge to work with a multiplicity of different styles of media. With experience in making short films, commercial videos, music videos, documentaries and commercial photography, I am well equipped to work on any project. I am a keen learner and am always willing to gain experience in different areas across the film and photographic industries, with the goal of eventually becoming a director in the industry. Considering my working experience and education, I feel well placed to take on any project.
